

Record your responses in a double-bubble map like the one below. Aim to focus on the elements of political power that are evident. On one side refer to power and on the other refer to powerlessness. The middle circles that connect to both can be used for evidence or elements that seems to fit both power and powerlessness.

