Diagram illustrating the structure of an argumentative essay, showing the flow from the introduction to the topic sentence for each paragraph, and then to the explanation, evidence, evaluation, and linking sentence for each paragraph.

The diagram is organized into three main columns:

- INTRODUCTION (Include each argument): A large box on the left labeled "Topic or argument".
- TOPIC SENTENCE FOR EACH PARAGRAPH: Three boxes in the middle, labeled "Reason/Argument 1", "Reason/Argument 2", and "Reason/Argument 3".
- EXPLAIN, EVIDENCE, EVALUATION FOR EACH PARAGRAPH AND LINKING SENTENCE: A series of horizontal boxes on the right, grouped by lines connecting them to the topic sentences in the middle column.

Each "Reason/Argument" box is connected to three corresponding horizontal boxes in the "EXPLAIN, EVIDENCE, EVALUATION..." column, indicating that each paragraph should contain three distinct pieces of explanation, evidence, or evaluation.
