

AIME

AN IMAGI-NATION FACTORY THAT USES IMAGINATION AND MENTORING TO UNLOCK THE POTENTIAL OF MARGINALISED YOUTH TO CREATE A FAIRER WORLD. WATCH HERE

Founded in 2005 with the goal of finding a solution to Indigenous inequality in Australia.

Since it was founded, has worked with:

- More than 39,000 Indigenous kids in Australia, many of whom have achieved educational parity and beyond.
- More than 6,000 university student volunteers, making it the largest volunteer movement in Australian history.

Is now a global movement, operating out of three continents, six countries (Australia, Nigeria, South Africa, Uganda, USA, Zimbabwe), 15 states and 48 university campuses around the world.

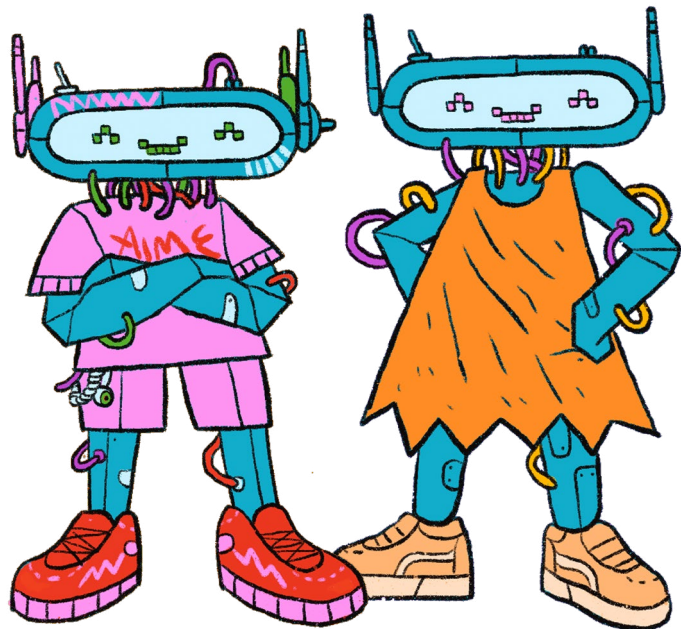

AWARDS & RECOGNITION:

2019 - Global “Top 50 Organisations in Education” award for its significant contributions towards the field of education

2015 - Ranked one of the top 10 places to work in Australia
